University Counseling Office and Services for Students with Disabilities

Established in the 2004/2005 academic year, the office aims to provide comprehensive guidance to all students, with a particular focus on students with disabilities. The support covers psychological, academic, family, social, emotional, and service-related areas. The office addresses students' issues by analyzing their causes, studying their backgrounds, and developing tailored counseling and support plans. These plans are customized based on the severity of the issue, the student's personal, familial, economic, social, and psychological circumstances, as well as the degree of disability. The goal is to find effective solutions that reduce, resolve, or help students adapt to their challenges, followed by ongoing support and monitoring.
